

This is where to start. . .

AQHA / RMQHA Introduction to Versatility Ranch Horse Clinic

Location: Barnes Ranch, 13751 E. Cherry Creek Rd., Larkspur, CO 80118

April 16 - 18

Day 1: Dry Work Classes (Ranch Riding / Ranch Trail, Conformation)

Day 2: Cattle Classes (Ranch Cutting, Working Ranch Horse)

Day 3: Mock Competition – Combine & practice the skills & classes

Open to registered American Quarter Horses Emphasis on Safety & Education

Learn this multi-skilled event in a safe, relaxed format. Jeff & Gerrie Barnes, experienced VRH clinicians, will guide you through the classes using AQHA rules, regulations, & patterns. We'll answer your questions with plenty of time to practice in our indoor arena.

Member Fee: $250 per rider which includes 3 full days of instruction with two clinicians, the facility, cattle, and your own copy of the current AQHA Handbook. Non-Member Fee = $295 including all of the above. A 1-year RMQHA membership fee is included in the clinic fee which includes the award-winning RMQHA magazine

RMQHA membership is required to attend program activities.

Outside stalls available = $10 per night which include stall stripping service at the end of clinic.

Stay on-site in your self-contained trailer (no electric hookups) or go to our website's "Lodging" button

Travel Directions on our website's home page. . . Location is south of Franktown, north of the Black Forest, and east of the I-25, exit #163

For questions contact Gerrie Barnes at 303-646-9855, barnesranch@hughes.net, or visit our website at www.barnesranch.com.

Use our easy online registration; or copy and complete the registration form, make your check payable to Barnes Ranch; & snail mail to 13751 E. Cherry Creek Rd., Larkspur, CO 80118.